A Century Old

Mrs. Eleanor Combs, of Sullivan county, who but a few days ago passed the century mark, was born in the month of October 1809, and during all these years her travels have only included three counties—Sullivan, Daviess and Greene. She has never ridden on a railroad train, although living within three and a half miles of a railroad. Her mental faculties are said to be exceptionally good. She eats but two meals a day.

The N. P. W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting Wednesday evening Nov. 3, with Mrs. John Forbes presiding. There were fifteen members responded to roll call, and a very interesting program was rendered.

Tragedy in Wayne County

There are many conflicting stories concerning the tragedy at the railroad camp on the Penna., in which two Austrian laborers were killed. The first stories about the affair were that the two Austrians were trying to hold up the camp for the money on hand, and they were killed with an axe by Joseph Durig proprietor of the boarding house. The authorities now hold to the opinion that it was most likely a drunken brawl, in which the two men killed, were aggressors, making a rough house because they were refused beer.

Grand Jury is Called

Judge Henry C. Fox, of the Wayne circuit court, has called the grand jury in special session to investigate the killing of the two Austrians, Sam Kragulac and Steve Bareto, in the railroad camp east of Cambridge City. The jury will hold its first session next Monday. Joseph Durig, keeper of the camp-house in which the men were killed, is still in jail at Richmond, awaiting the investigation.

Gerald Nichols Injured

While working with the Stanley Bros. outfit, drillers of gas wells, between Dunreith and Lewisville, Gerald Nichols, who was working on the night shift, was struck on the head about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning by the breaking of a rope attached to the pulleys. One end of the rope struck Nichols on the head with terrific force. He was rendered unconscious, and was removed to the boarding house of Jesse Conrad. Nichols' home is in Pennsylvania and his relatives were notified of his critical condition.

According to a decision of Judge Wilson made in open court at Bloomington there will be no recount of the vote in the city election November 2nd and the petition of Abraham L. Donaldson defeated for mayor, for a recount is denied.
A Narrow Escape
Edgar N. Bayliss, a merchant of Robinsville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick, and coughed all the time and if I did not have consumption, it was next to it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough, and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar. Had I not so done, I would have been a corpse."

Dreams, which Charles Henson, an old Monon railroad employe had of his wife who departed this life two years ago, it is believed unbalanced his mind, and caused his self destruction by hanging in a barn his home near the yards at Bloomington.

Thursday, November 25th, was officially proclaimed a day of Thanksgiving yesterday in a formal proclamation issued by Governor Marshall. In the closing paragraph of his proclamation, the Governor says: "Make of it a day of genuine Thanksgiving, on which we not only reverently acknowledge our reliance upon the Divine, but gladly discharge our duty to all men as our brethren. And in this spirit of worship and service from year to year, may God bless the commonwealth of the State of Indiana."

Expendent of Reduced Nobility.
An American who was spending the winter in Naples had taken a fat in a palazzo, the first floor of which was occupied by a noble family in somewhat reduced circumstances. He noticed, to his surprise, that every day he met a servant going up or down the stairs carrying a pair of carriage doors. At last the mystery was explained. The noble family shared a carriage with some other families, but each had its own doors, with the family most of arms, to make their friends believe that they all had carriages.

Both Boys Saved
Louis Reon, a leading merchant of Norway, Mich., writes: "Three bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar absolutely cured my boy of a severe cough, and a neighbor's boy, who was ill with a cold that the doctors gave him up, was cured by taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Nothing else could have cured them so quickly. Sold by all Druggists.

Opening Day, Saturday, Nov. 13, The Holloway Wright Co. HOUSE FURNISHINGS, New Castle

The Holloway-Wright Co. wishes to announce the formal opening of its New House Furnishing Store on next Saturday, Nov. 13. The new store is located in the recently completed McQuinn block on East Broad street. It occupies the entire building which is 12,000 feet and three stories and basement. The basement is full height and finished for a store room. It will be one of our best departments. The entire building is finished in oak and laid with maple floors. To reach the different floors is a passenger elevator operated by electricity, and this is supplemented by a broad, easy stairway. It is an easy task to go all over this great store. And that is just what we want you to do next Saturday. We shall not try to sell much that day, but want to show the people of Henry county one of the finest stores in Indiana. Only two cities in the state outside of Indianapolis have stores as large as the Holloway-Wright Store. To fill such a store with house furnishings of all kinds took weeks of buying and selection and we spent much time at the two great markets, Chicago and Grand Rapids. We bought pieces that we never thought of carrying in our old stores. Our stock is in keeping with the new place.

Two Fine Presents

As a special inducement to have everybody visit our new store next Saturday we purpose to make two handsome and substantial presents to some visitor. Every man or woman who comes to the store on Saturday will have an equal opportunity. All you need to do is to register your name. No purchase of any kind required. All we want to do Saturday is to show you and your friends a store that is in keeping with the progress of the best town in the state.
